an antidote against internationalism was asked by Rev. John C. Palmer

MISS ELIZABETH KOONES
BRIDE OF ERIK S. HENIUS.

A marriage of international interest took place at noon yesterday when Miss Elizabeth Koones, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles K.
Koones, became the bride of Erik Schou Henius, of Copenhagen, Denmark. The ceremony at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Koones, was performed by Rev. Father Riordan and was followed by a breakfast, for which a small company of relatives and close friends assembled.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Mary Hill was her maid-of-honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Juliette Fick and Miss Suzanne Wright. The wedding party also included the bride's brother Charles Carr Koones, who served as usher, and Edward K.
Knudsen, of New York, was best man.

Autumn flowers in shades of gold and orange were used as decorations except in the drawing room, where the ceremony took place.
There green and white were the prevailing tones, Easter lilies and white gladioli being used, with pinks and Australian ferns as a background.

The bride's gown was of soft, ivory satin, made on long, straight lines, with petal-shaped panels on the sides hanging well below the medium hem line. The low waist line was outlined with a band of pearl and white satin, which was continued to form a V-shaped panel on the front of the skirt. The gown was sleeveless, and small clusters of orange blossoms formed the only garniture beside the pearl background.

The bride wore a costume of black satin, with a full skirt, and a train, which was carried and held in place by clusters of orange blossoms. The gown cleared the floor all around, the veil forming the train. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, white orchids and lilies of the valley.

The attendants were dressed in pictureque frocks of changeable tulle, built over hoops. Two were of pale yellow shot with pink lights and the other two of gold shading to flame. Black satin slippers, with gold hosiery, and black lace mits completed quaint and charming costumes and the old-fashioned nosegay was carried out in the colonial bouquet, which the bridesmaids carried and in the clusters of old-fashioned flowers in their hair.

Mrs. Koones, mother of the bride, had on a costume of black chiffon with an overdress of black chiffon embroidered in crystal beads. She wore a corsage bouquet of orchids.

Among the guests from other cities here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George Washington Young and Miss Joan Young, of Milwaukee; Mrs. William Hawley of Leesburg, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Lyon, Miss Mary Stewart and Harold Stewart, all of Baltimore.

business in San Francisco, has recently been transferred to Seattle, and it is here that he and his bride will make their home. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Erik Schou Henius, of Copenhagen. His parents were unable to come to this country for the wedding, as they had hoped.

but will probably visit their son and their daughter-in-law in Seattle next spring. The bride's traveling costume was a three-piece suit of black broadtail, with a blouse fashioned of green crepe brocade in gold and bright colors. With this she is wearing a smart black velvet train, trimmed with a bow of green and gold metal cloth.
